CROSSWORD BREAK

Sunday 7th – Tuesday 9th November 2010

Come to the Budock Vean for two days of friendly mind-bending fun and games.

Come and meet other crossword lovers and enjoy the challenge of solving puzzles of all kinds and tackling word games. Crosswords in the style of the dailies such as the Guardian, the Times, the Financial Times and the Daily Telegraph and others in the style of the Spectator, New Stateman, Observer and other Sunday newspapers will be features in the competitions. Overnight cryptic challenges for the insomniacs amongst you will keep your mind active.

The Crossword Event will be hosted by Tom Johnson, whose greatest claim to fame is that he was Amanda Barlow's first-form teacher when she started at secondary school!

In addition to this, Tom has compiled crosswords for the Spectator under the pseudonym 'Doc' since July 1981 and has edited the puzzles since January 1999. He compiles puzzles as Didymus in Prospect magazine, Gozo in the Financial Times and Busman in the Toughie series in the Daily Telegraph and has edited Araucaria's "1 Across" magazine since early 2000.

GOURMET WEEKENDS

Friday 5th November - Saturday 6th November 2010
Friday 3rd December – Saturday 4th December 2010

Come and take a winter break in Cornwall at our extremely popular Gourmet Weekends. Enjoy relaxed conviviality and the best of fresh local Cornish produce, imaginatively presented by our Head Chef, Darren Kelly and his team, using a variety of cooking styles, with fine wines to complement each dish.

The Gourmet Weekend is held on Friday and Saturday night. The price includes two five-course dinners (the menu is set but vegetarian options are available for those who require them) with different pre-selected wines served with each course, two nights accommodation and Full English Breakfast on Saturday and Sunday.

The Gourmet Weekends have a "House Party" feel to them. Guests are seated on large tables of eight or ten unless they specify otherwise. This dinner party style has resulted in many friendships being formed.

The combination of good food, wines and relaxed company with some rounds of golf, relaxation in our swimming pool and making use of our Natural Health Spa, has resulted in these weekends selling out extremely quickly – so book up as soon as possible!
